

Blood That I Bleed

Thunderstone

Skies are red like the devil's eyes
Gaze that burns and peels my skin
There's no place to hide from the lies
There must be evil within

Justify the deeds that I've done
I've lived my whole life in disguise
Amplify my needs I'll become what
I always have despised

Oh, I'm twisting and turning around
I'll never be free to be bound
My destination is still unknown
And I can't find a way...

Holding my breath as I'm going ahead
A burn in my eyes, a wish in my heart
The blood that I bleed is the hope that I seek
A burn in my eyes, a wish in my heart
The blood that I bleed

Crucify my dreams, I'll survive
Whatever gets in my way
Clarify my vision, my life
I hope that forever you'll stay

Oh, I'm twisting and turning around
I'll never be free to be bound
My destination is still unknown
And I can't find a way...

Holding my breath as I'm going ahead
A burn in my eyes, a wish in my heart
The blood that I bleed is the hope that I seek
A burn in my eyes, a wish in my heart
The blood that I bleed

Justify the deeds that I've done
I've lived my whole life in disguise
Amplify my needs I'll become what
I always have despised

Oh, I'm twisting and turning around
I'll never be free to be bound
My destination is still unknown
And I can't find a way...

Holding my breath as I'm going ahead
A burn in my eyes, a wish in my heart
The blood that I bleed is the hope that I seek
A burn in my eyes, a wish in my heart
The blood that I bleed
