Until We Touch the Burning Sun

Thunderstone

I'm watching through the frozen window Through the reflection of my face There's a cold world out there And I'm here, safe and deceitfully fine

This is my world
My heaven, my home, where I can be alone
Only hear and see
Hear and see things that really matter to me

When I open the door and look upon the haze I can see a million eyes and the way they're gazing at me Walking through the misery Surrounded by the things that I don't want to see

I can feel the hopeless pain And it's driving me insane And today I'll make a promise Just to break it my tomorrow

We will never learn, we will never turn Our eyes to the world where the pain is reality We will never see, we'll never believe Until we touch the burning sun

I feel the breeze
The breeze that makes me realize that I am not alone
I'm here, I'm home and safe again
Behind the doors, locked inside, never want to leave again

I can feel the hopeless pain And it's driving me insane And today I'll make a promise Just to break it my tomorrow

We will never learn, we will never turn Our eyes to the world where the pain is reality We will never see, we'll never believe Until we touch the burning sun

We will never learn, we will never turn Our eyes to the world where the pain is reality We will never see, we'll never believe Until we touch the burning sun

We will never learn, we will never turn Our eyes to the world where the pain is reality We will never see, we'll never believe Until we touch the burning sun
