

Icicles (Morning Glow)

Tiny Moving Parts

It was a malfunction corrupted in the system
An accidental focus led to faulty circuits

It's all fictional
No antidotes
No plot holes, no
You keep skimming through
Green eyes are glued
I am terrified of losing you

I can't do this alone
Someone please open the door
I can't do this alone anymore

You were the one charm that kept me so strong
I think about it every morning when I'm awake
It strikes to my brain and I cannot shake
I can't shake, I can't shake it

Back this up, back this up
Flip the switch. Turn it around again
Back this up, back this up
An accidental focus
You keep skimming through
Green eyes are glued
I am terrified of all of my skeletons drowning in my closet
Let them speak, Let them speak for a minute
Skeletons drowning in my closet
Spill out all my secrets

I can't do this alone
Someone please open the door
I can't do this alone anymore

It's beautiful like ice...
It's beautiful like icicles
In the morning glow
Glow on forever, glow on forever

You were the one charm that kept me so strong
I think about it every morning when I'm awake
It strikes to my brain and I cannot shake
I can't shake it

Back this up, back this up
Flip the switch. Turn it around again
Back this up, back this up
An accidental focus
You keep skimming through
Green eyes are glued
I am terrified of losing you
