

Light Bulb

Tiny Moving Parts

The stress may bring out the death of me
And ever since you left, I've felt empty
I've felt empty
Silhouettes, my only close friends
Desperately searching for something
Ever since you left, I needed company
I needed company

So why can't I just stand still?
Why do I always move in circles?
I'm sick of the spins
I'm sick of all of this
Every echo is driving me crazy

It's a never ending cycle to me
I cannot speak with my tongue caught up in my teeth
Caught up in my teeth
Will you break me open?
I have something to say
About the way you make me crumble to my knees
Crumble to my knees

I am nothing special, but I try to be
Nothing special, but I try to be
I'm just a light bulb endlessly flickering the streets
I am nothing

So why can't I just stand still?
Why do I always move in circles?
I'm sick of the spins
I'm sick of all of this
Every echo is driving me crazy

Driving me crazy
Driving me crazy
Driving me crazy

I am nothing special, but I try to be
Nothing special, but I try to be
I'm just a light bulb endlessly flickering the streets
I am nothing

Ever since you left...

Ever since you left
I could feel my mind
Decomposing slowly inside

So why can't I just stand still?
Why do I always move in circles?
I'm sick of the spins
I'm sick of all of this
Every echo is driving me crazy
Every echo is driving me crazy
Every echo is driving me crazy
