

Polar Bear

Tiny Moving Parts

When the drugs wore off
You had an endless cough
That sent turbulence to your head

You wish the pillow ate your teeth
You wish you melted in the sheets
Reality is so sickening, but you have to deal with it
Sickening, and you have to move on as I do too
And everyone around you, everyone around you
Everyone

Erase my mind
I need a clean slate
Discover the energy
Find what's underneath

When the spark went off
When the spark went off
You lost your touch
With all the people that you loved

You wish the high would come and stick
A structured coma of infinite bliss

But reality is so sickening, but you have to deal with it
Sickening, and you have to move on as I do too
And everyone around you, everyone around you
Everyone, everyone

Don't be scared
Get ready to fight
I am a polar bear
