

Love Is Not Control

To Kill a King

When you reach it, you gaze an age
Seldom place each word getting shape but
What remains like a holy grail
Joys embrace, parked on braiding
Feel it in and the fact it's saved
Torn and tide and the room contain
But the rules we set are the rules we break
So I don't know love no, I don't know love at all
But oh, if we've fallen together apart
If we've fallen together then

Then you land in your early 20's
Stood old drunken and leaning gently
To all aboard when the boat is saved
The world ain't safe when you're playing safely
Feeling now in your very next step
Walk your walk as you break your neck
And you're feeling proud, feeling down
So I don't know love no, I don't know love at all
If we've fallen together apart
If we've fallen together apart
If we've fallen together then

Love is not control and love's not control
Love is not control and love's not control
Love is not control and love's not control
So let go

Then you're stuck on your middle age
Your eyes on gold and your heart's on gold
And your mind's on poking is all control
In the little lives where the story ain't broken
You tripped her in, you clipped her wings
Forced her sing and the gage that brings
No love, no joy, no can, no soul
So I don't know love no, I don't know love at all
If we've fallen together apart
If we've fallen together apart
If we've fallen together then

Love is not control and love's not control
Love is not control and love's not control
Love is not control and love's not control
So let go

Who's hard, know it's hard, know it's hard, know it's hard
Who take, who take, who take, who take
Who's hard, know it's hard, know it's hard, know it's hard
Who take, who take, who take, who take
Who's hard, know it's hard, know it's hard, know it's hard
Who take, who take, who take, who take
Love is not control and love's not control
Love is not control and love's not control
Love is not control and love's not control
So let go
