Come

Todd Rundgren

There is no freedom We are not free We all reach the boundary eventually

Time erases all we've made We are judged by what we leave Others turn their backs but as for us Vast change to oversee

The battlefront is our back yard We raise our flag for all to see And when it's time to come for you Will you come, come, come Come with me ...