

Everyone is Everyone Else

Tom Rosenthal

Everyone is everyone else
Take a picture of yourself
Look around for those you know

Variations on a theme
the minds creations,
the body dreams

Go find your genealogies and you'll see
We're all babies making stories, stories.

Everyone is everyone else
We all have felt the way you felt
The tragedy of different times

Your enemy he goes to bed
Thinks upon the words unsaid,
The tragedy of distant minds

Variations on a screen
The minds creations,
The body dreams.

Everyone is everyone else
roll the big dice for yourself the covers and the book within

Go find your genealogies and you'll see
We're all babies making stories, stories
We're all babies making stories, stories
