

Take Care

Tom Rosenthal

The old, the young, the brave
Got stung all around you
The lights fall down
upon the world and did surround you
Take care of all the lonely souls
And love will hold you
Oh how you walked through
The dark and love destroyed you

The old, the young, the brave
Got stung all around you
The lights fall down
upon the world and did surround you
Take care of all the lonely souls
And love will hold you
Oh how you walked through
The dark and love destroyed you
