

I've Never Seen

Tony Bennett

I've never seen you wake at dawn
And brush a dream from your eyes
I've never seen you part your lips
To take a kiss by surprise

And I've never seen you bow your head in prayer
Or jump for joy and let your laughter fill the air
And yet I love you, sight unseen
For my heart has seen what I've never seen

And yet I love you, sight unseen
For my heart has seen what I've never seen
For my heart has seen what I've never seen
