Individual Thing

Tony Bennett

What rings a bell with you Don't necessarily ring a bell with me But that's the way the cookie crumbles And love can be intriguing even if it stumbles.

You hear a joke and say oh well. To me, that joke just rings a bell What makes a person's bell ring Is an individual thing

Some make a fuss to live alone Some can't survive without a phone What makes a person's life sing Is an individual thing.

Out of deference to you
I of course respect your preference too
But it's nice if there is little differential
In the things two people feel are preferential

When you and me, at least to me We seem alive would you agree?
But I speak for myself, of course Dare I go presuming so
Cause that's an individual thing
An individual thing
