

Moments Like This

Tony Bennett

Here is my casual smile, playing its part
Keeping the two of us good friends
I'll find a new secret way, hiding my heart
Here is where the masquerade ends

Moments like this make me thrill through and through Careless moments like this close to you
Nonchalantly we'd dine and we'd dance
Yet my heart seems to melt in your grace

Sweet moments like this with the soft lights aglow
Make me long for your kiss though I know
I'd be just one of all your affairs
But at moments like this, who cares

I'd be just one of all your affairs
But at moments like this, who cares
