

Sandy's Smile

Tony Bennett

Fate has dealt the cards
Each of us must play
Some cards are worth keeping
Some we throw away

But any time I feel fate's been unkind
I look across the room
And I'm so glad to find

There is Sandy's smile
There are Sandy's eyes
Calm and reassuring
And so wondrous and wise

When I hold her close to me
There is Sandy's heart
There are all the reasons
I adored her from the start
We just can't be apart

Now there's Sandy's frown
Something must be wrong
I guess I must have hurt her
When I stayed away so long

So I start to leave the room
I stop and turn and then
In a little while
There is Sandy's smile
Again
