Sandy's Smile

Tony Bennett

Fate has dealt the cards
Each of us must play
Some cards are worth keeping
Some we throw away

But any time I feel fate's been unkind I look across the room And I'm so glad to find

There is Sandy's smile There are Sandy's eyes Calm and reassuring And so wondrous and wise

When I hold her close to me There is Sandy's heart There are all the reasons I adored her from the start We just can't be apart

Now there's Sandy's frown Something must be wrong I guess I must have hurt her When I stayed away so long

So I start to leave the room I stop and turn and then In a little while There is Sandy's smile Again
