

Tinseltown

Tony Carey

wild eyes staring out from a wasted face. like a cry for help just a little too late.
you saw the writing on the wall, you can't believe how far you'd fall

in tinseltown,
in tinseltown.
uh-huh in tinseltown

the sharks sure loved you when you hit the scene you were a walking, talking hustler's dream nothing changes but the names one more ace shot down in flames
in tinseltown
in tinseltown
uh-huh in tinseltown

high rollin, high living
you can jump right over the moon.
one day you wake up
staring all alone in empty room
you threw it all away,
and you did not see it go,
now there is nothing left,
and no one wants to know where did it go?

oh no in tinseltown

you searched for something that you never found you came out of nowhere boy and nowhere's where you're bound it teases you with just enough another fool steps off the bus to tinseltown

you can jump right over the moon.
you threw it all away,
now there is nothing left,
where did it go?

oh oh in tinseltown
oh oh guitar

in tinseltown
way down in tinseltown
