

If You Act This Way

Toots and The Maytals

If you act this way you'll never be free
You don't know good, and you don't know good
Don't know good from bad
You'll never know how wrong you would be
'Cause you can't see, see, see what you have done to me
You must remember you're the one who told me that you were true
So it's no use, stop you're crying, there is nothing more I can do, do, do
You'll never know how wrong you would be
And you can't see, see, see what you have done to me
If you act this way, way, way, you'll never be free
