

She Will Never Let Me Down

Toots and The Maytals

She will never let me down
She will never let me down
She will never let me down
Because she loves me, she loves me
She loves me more than anyone ever ever loved me
That's why she will never let me down
She will never break my heart
She will never break my heart
She will never tear it apart
Because she told me, she told me
She told me that she wants me, she wants me, she wants me
She's got her destiny and she will never let me down
She will never let me down
She will never let me down
She will never let me down
Because she loves me, she loves me
She loves me more than anyone ever ever loved me
That's why she will never let me down
