

Windows

Toro y Moi

I need a new attitude, with a frame of mind
Got a backseat view, with a pastel sunset
And you still feel blue, you still feel blue
Baby give me something, a new attitude

Got me staring out my window
Watching shadows touch the light
Got me staring out my window
Got me staring out my window
Watching shadows touch the light
Got me staring out my window

This is not fantasy
This is as real as me
I would not lie
It's a sign I just threw my cellphone
Overstayed my welcome
I think I could've left you standing there alone
I think there's some things that are better off unknown

Got me staring out my window
Watching shadows touch the light
Got me staring out my window
Got me staring out my window
Watching shadows touch the light
Got me staring out my window

I'm just trying to paint my picture as best I can
I got all this weight falling in my hands
I don't wanna diss your love
But I gotta let this go
