

Still Love You

Trace Adkins

on the last day the sun begins to rise to paint a path across the mornin' sky oh, i will still love you and when the wind breathes it's final breath and ev'ry drop of rain's called back to where it's kept

when the last star burns out
and the moon shines no more someday when the ocean
turns it's back on the shore and heaven is the only place we can runnnnnnnn to

the last time this world spins around that moment after time runs out baby, i will still love you

girl, i will still love you
