

If I Had You

Tracey Ullman

The other day I saw you walking
You looked as pretty as a peach
You looked so near but yet somehow, you're all out of reach
I could change the world if I had you
I could change the world if I had you
My daddy told me not to worry
It always comes to he who waits
But I can't wait, I guess sometimes, oh no, it's too late
I could change the world if I had you
I could change the world if I had you

But I can't wait, I guess sometimes, oh no, it's too late
I could change the world if I had you
I could change the world if I had you
I could change the world if I had you
