

Loving You Is Easy

Tracey Ullman

Loving you is easy 'cause it's true
Touching you is all I need to do
And the joy you bring makes me more than anything
Wanting you, warm against my skin

Loving you is beautiful and new Holding you is all I have to do
For when love entwines, poetry can not define all I feel when y our lips meet mine

And the things we feel of another world but real
With your heart beating next to mine

Loving you is easy, easy, is easy
