

Unfinished Business

Trapped Under Ice

I think that we have unfinished business
But you don't want to face reality, don't want to face me

Unfinished business
You should have stayed out of my way
There is no more chance for peace
You're on the wrong side of the bed you made

Run, run get your fking boys
They already know my name
Know what they're in for

There's no turning back for you
Unfinished business
