Where've you been, love? How've you been, love? It's a long time since I've seen love You make me happy, love Hope that you're happy, love I was a scrappy love I feel like I'm stupid now I feel like I'm stupid now How've you been, love? I've committed a sin, love You care for him, love? He's good for you, love Guess who has sinned, love? She asked how you're doin', love I feel kind of stupid, love To the noose, to the neck, to the push, to the shove How much time has it been, love? How much time has it been, love? We don't even speak now Remember the first walk-out? You fill my need You tell me to read We sat in the park We sat just apart But not for our own love We grew a strong love But not for our own love We grew a strong love Wish I could sin love Wish I could sin love Wish I could sin love Where've you been, love? How've you been, love? It's a long time since I've seen love You make me happy, love Hope that you're happy, love I was a scrappy love I feel like I'm stupid now I feel like I'm stupid now How've you been, love? I've committed a sin, love You care for him, love? He's good for you, love Guess who has sinned, love? She asked how you're doin', love I feel kind of stupid, love To the noose, to the neck, to the push, to the shove How much time has it been, love? How much time has it been, love? We don't even speak now Remember the first walk-out? You fill my need You tell me to read We sat in the park We sat just apart But not for our own love We grew a strong love

But not for our own love
We grew a strong love
Wish I could sin, love
Wish I could sin, love
How've you been, love?
It's a long time since I've seen love
You care for him, love?
He's good for you, love
He's good for you, love
