

Better Think Twice

Trijntje Oosterhuis

Oh lover, this time you have gone too far
Why didn't you just listen after all this time
Oh lover, you tell me I ain't good enough
To satisfy your senses and the way I get it on I've given all I can and more
Here I am, my back against the wall
Waiting for the rain to hit the floor

Oh boy, you better think twice
Before I'll pack my bags and leave your sorry ass behind
Now you better seek help
Cause I won't be around to catch you when you fall
I don't know where I'll be going
Hey now, you better think twice,
Are you afraid to show it, show it, show it

Hey lover, all you do is run and hide
How can it be, we seem to fail the more that we try
Oh lover, lover, you'll never find that peace of mind
But sometimes it'll take some patience and time
I cannot count the tears I cried,
Baby won't you give it one more try
Cause if you'd only see it, we could touch the sky

Oh boy, you better think twice
Before I'll pack my bags and leave your sorry ass behind
Now you better seek help
Cause I won't be around to catch you when you fall
I don't know where I'll be going
Hey now, you better think twice,
Are you afraid to show it, show it, show it
Are you afraid to show it, show it, show it
Are you afraid to show what you got, oh boy...
Oh boy, you better think twice
Oh boy, you better think twice

Oh boy, you better think twice
Oh boy, you better think twice
Oh boy, you better think twice
All my tears are gone for you my love
Oh boy, you better think twice
Oh boy, you better think twice
Oh boy, you better think twice
I cried all over again
