

Chlorine

Truly

Everyone loves the sun, any other person would be having fun I need no one since we came undone, I need no one.
The sirens scream on an empty page, the people sleep with a distant rage.
It's such a drag to set her free, feels like there ain't no one in this world for me.
A blackened sky in days ahead in the days ahead, in the days ahead We'll be only...
lonely, chlorine are you lonely like a bad dream shoot it straight, right through my brain memories crash & burst into flames I don't know how I ever thought of you I closed my eyes & you were coming right through with your deadly songs with your deadly songs
with your deadly songs with your deadly songs You're standing there with your long black hair with your long black hair with your long black hair & we're only... lonely, chlorine are you lonely like a bad dream is your love open
No other person could make me remember this whole summer. the way you do, tell it to me true are you lonely too?
you're lonely too & the siren screams and you're little sister screams, cause she's lonely too you're lonely too, and we're only lonely, chlorine are you lonely like a bad dream make a wish
Is your love open, open, open.
