

New Machine

Tuxedomoon

This time get me home
I've got to build a new machine
I'm tired of whats on your screen
I've got to build a new machine
I'm under new influences a longed for modernity
a welcome infirmity
No time for coff
no time for tea
bomb threats keep me off the streets It's all so normal everyone i meet nowhere to roam
I'll just go home
nowhere to roam
I'll just go under under new influences a loged for modernity
a welcome infirmity
It's six o'clock and once again you're not there and i know it's time to go home for once
I've got to build a new machine
tired of what's on your goddamn sceens can't compare with what i dream
I've got to build a new machine
I've got to build a new machine
