

Dark Passenger

Twelve Foot Ninja

To take what I attack
I will attack where
There is no defence
To secure my defence
I will defend where
There is no attack
Attack, attack

I will look through your eyes
I'll see it to the end
I will break down the walls
The start of my ascent

To await the coming dawn
The one approaches the edge
And he knows it's there
As he holds his breath
'Til the end

I can feel you here with me
Day after day after day
How you work to control
And to stop me
From returning again

To await the coming dawn
The one approaches the edge
And he knows it's there
As he holds his breath
'Til the end

I will not fail
I behold humanity
And the illusion
You create to survive
You're anchored by gravity
Perpetrating the lie

The lie, the lie, the lie
The lie, the lie, the lie
The lie

To await the coming dawn
The one approaches the edge
And he knows it's there
Only one more step
'Til the end

To await the coming dawn
The one approaches the edge
And he knows it's there
As he holds his breath
'Til the end
