

Every breath, every step
How remote their control
I will run
I will be
I will break stranglehold
Once we'll be overwhelmed
Once we reach our greater selves
All we know will be complete
We will overcome gravity

I must break free
Through this wall
Must wake up from this dream
I can hear them calling me
I will endure, I will be here

We only see what we want to see
(False evidence appearing real)
When we've given everything we feel
(False evidence appearing real)
We're moving to the end at lightning speed
(False evidence appearing real)
What we don't understand is the enemy

All of time, all that's won
A tiny seed, an atom bomb
We retreat and we hide
We'll be back before too long
Centrifuge the empire
We'll subside, be retired
Then we'll live without regret
We will overcome our greatest fears

I must break free
Through this wall
Must wake up from this dream
I can hear them calling me
I will endure, I will be here

We only see what we want to see
(False evidence appearing real)
And we've given everything we feel
(False evidence appearing real)
We're moving to the end at lightning speed
(False evidence appearing real)
What we don't understand is the enemy

I must break free
Through this wall
I must wake up from this dream
I can hear them calling me
I will endure, I will be here
