

Let Them Have It All

Twisted Wheel

Moody in the morning
'Cause there's nothing else to do
Hiding under your sheets
'Cause work has no time for you
There's a truck load for you calling
Every single morning that you wake

One hundred thousand phone calls
Asking you where have you been
You decided not to answer
'Cause there's nothing new you've seen
You want to hide away
Maybe just for one more day or maybe more?

One day eats another and another eats a year
You keep tried to fix your engines
But all the parts seem so dear
Don't be a complainer
Get some new sole in your trainers
Have a ball

You asked for some advice
And a sad man calls you a fool
He said "Too many times you missed the sun
Who swaps with the moon"
Don't be a complainer
Get some new sole in your trainers
Have a ball
And let them have it all
Let them have it all
Let them have it all

Now we all see you're as happy as can be
You know you're on the way to be
The best that you can be
All the bad past has gone
Now you know you are the one
Let's have a ball
And let them have it all
Let them have it all
Let them have it all

Now everything is changing
You've got something to live for
You've got one up on last week
Now you've opened up the door
Don't be a complainer
Get some new sole in your trainers
Have a ball
Let them have it all
Let them have it all
Let them have it all

Now we all see you're as happy as can be
The best that you can be

Now you know you are the one
Let's have a ball
And let them have it all
Let them have it all
Let them have it all

Balling in the morning
And you're dancing and you're talking
And you're feeling back to you
As you're singing and you're walking
Have a ball
Let them have it all
Let them have it all
Let them have it all
Let them have it all
Let them have it all
Let them have it all
Let them have it all
