

I Got These Feelings

Twiztid

I got these feelings that I can do without in my life
All the wrong I see, what can I do to make it right?
I try, I try but I just cannot seem to compromise
So I get discouraged and all these feelings, they multiply

Tell them all be scared, I'm America's nightmare
Given that you die tonight stare
Living every day like the end is right there
I don't feel like life is letting me fight fair
Out of luck, got to give no fuck
Tired of living just enough for minimal stuff
I'm like a truck with ripped up tuck
With a big ass dip just given to front
It's like I'm right back living with my [?]
Cuz she just can't get enough
Disability from the state
When the [?] got proud and he's screaming the fraud?
Most of y'all would've given it up

I got these feelings that I can do without in my life
All the wrong I see, what can I do to make it right?
I try, I try but I just cannot seem to compromise
So I get discouraged and all these feelings, they multiply

Yo, from broke eating ramen to the charms with diamonds
Told me I'm a talented man [?] little rhyming
No, I'm not shining and I know, I'm too small
For disco balls and things that [?] behind y'all
We're not your friend call, but we're for certian
And all of y'all are in need to sit down before you fall off
Everybody's playing the same game, don't be surprised
You on top of the world, I'ma need it on the next day
Fuck what everybody say, everyone has opinions
And that shit right there ain't ever gonna change
Like the weather, and you should know you got it together
The rest of the broken frame can fall off like the scabs
Sick and tired of being sad, got no reason being mad
I finally understand that we we're meant to everlast
Ain't it funny? Catching feelings made me ugly
I remember once upon a time when you used to love me

I got these feelings that I can do without in my life
All the wrong I see, what can I do to make it right?
I try, I try but I just cannot seem to compromise
So I get discouraged and all these feelings, they multiply

Turn it on, turn it down, turn it up and around
Got the feeling that something's happening
My mind's spinning in a daze pushing everything away
Got the feeling that something's happening

I got these feelings that I can do without in my life
All the wrong I see, what can I do to make it right?
I try, I try but I just cannot seem to compromise
So I get discouraged and all these feelings, they multiply
