

Vampire Empire

Two Witches

Come here my pet
My human dove
Come my child
My darling love
Throw back your head
Your silken hair
Expose your neck
Lay whiteness bare

How pink the flesh
How blue the vein
How neat the tear
How slight the pain
How good you are
How full the flood
How soft your touch
How red your blood

Fear not my pet
The giving heart
Accept, my love,
The docile part
For all your kind
Owe this to mine
You owe your life
To rich red wine

Were I not here
To drink your life
Your days you'd spend
In useless strife
Were I not here
Your blood to taste
Your precious soul
Would run to waste

Hush now my pet
My human mite
Sleep for a while
Surrender sight
Renew the sweetness
I have drained
I shall return
To drink again

Fear not my pet
The giving heart
Accept, my love,
The docile part
For all your kind
Owe this to mine
You owe your life
To rich red wine

This is your fate
Enslaved to me
This is the world

As it will be
For ever, and ever...
