

Mary Song

Tyler Ward

They call her runaway
Without a place to stay
But I heard it won't be long
'Cause this is Mary's song

Just like a castaway
Thrown into the wave
But I heard her faith is strong
'Cause this is Mary's song

She let her hair fall down beside him as the tears fell
On his feet
She had given more than who she was to the world

Will you hold her up? Let her fall? Or stand strong without wavering?
'Cause she's descending, she's breaking down
The word she speaks is just another plea

Cause you take away,
Please just take away my pain

I'm broken within my soul,
I'm chokin' I can't let go,
Provokin' to make a change,
I'm afraid I've been lead astray

I need this change
Please don't let this be the same

Don't want it to be the same,
I'm tired, I need this change,
I'm weary you'll let me fade, I fear I'ma fade away

He looked her in the eye with passion
As he spoke the words that said it all
No matter what you've done I'll love you,
And I'll love you through it all

I'll hold you up when it's tearing you down
Stand mighty strong without wavering
With just a word, I will lift you up
A word of love can change anything

I take away
I will take away your pain

You're broken within your soul,
So broken you can't let go,
Take hold and make a change, the cold is gone today

You need this change
It won't ever be the same

It won't ever be the same,
Tomorrow tonight today,
Feel within and change, you deserve all you've gained

I will love you (At times you try and times you lie)
I will love you (This is the time to defy, use your faith to find me)
I will love you (Don't you run)
I will love you (I will abide with this life that you gave to me)

They call her runaway
Without a place to stay
But I heard it won't be long
'Cause this is Mary's song

They call her runaway
Without a place to stay
But I heard it won't be long
'Cause this is Mary's song

Just like a castaway
Thrown into the wave
But I heard her faith is strong
'Cause this is Mary's song
