

Satellite

Tyrone Wells

I see you standing there
And you are unaware you're shining so bright you keep on telling me you don't know what I see

I see your light

You need to know
Who you are - to me

You are a satellite
You're shooting through the sky
You leave the world behind
You are a satellite
You're with the stars at night
I love to see you fly

You're brighter than the moon
And all the planets too
But you don't believe

Cause you've seen the Milky Way
You don't know how I could say
That you're more beautiful to me

Leave all your worries below
And know
