

Why would your god make life so hard?
He looks the other way while pain and chaos reign
Is it too much to ask just one we get to have our say?

Faith heals they say, in time scars fade
I am a godless man, find solace where I can
I'm not aware of any awe inspiring master plan

Aim high lay low, stay strong, don't go
Hope and despair collide
There's nowhere left to hide
What really sucks is that we never got to say
Goodbye

Is it so wrong when hope is gone
If love could save the day it wouldn't be this way
Another twist of fate and you'd be here with us today

Why would your god make life so hard?
He looks the other way while pain and chaos reign
Is it too much to ask just one we get to have our say?
