

How Will I Get Through This

UB40

Each dawn I watch the sun rise in the sky
Another day's begun and how will I get through this one?
Washed in the morning light
It's all so clear
I made it thought the night
Convinced myself that you're still here

Oh no you're gone
I'll be someone that you can go
And always rely on
And you safe please stay away
I'll disappear and you'll never see me

All through my waking hours
Daydreams of you
If I don't see you soon
I don't believe I will get through
I can't go on this way
This much is true
The piece I'm forced to pay
I never would have agreed to

Oh no you're gone
I'll be someone that you can go
And always rely on
And you safe please stay away
I'll disappear and you'll never see me

Oh no you're gone
I'll be someone that you can go
And always rely on
And you safe please stay away
I'll disappear and you'll never see me

And as the day turns blue my emptiness
Is filled with thoughts of you
And I don't think I can make it
Here in the darkest night no peace I find
My head is filled with lies
And all the love you left behind

Oh no you're gone
I'll be someone that you can go
And always rely on
And you safe please stay away
I'll disappear and you'll never see me
Oh no you're gone
I'll be someone that you can go
And always rely on
And you safe please stay away
I'll disappear and you'll never see me
