

Sands of Time

Ultra Naté

Looking at the pictures of days gone by
Memories of you and me and the love we left behind
Caught up in a past revelation
The only ones in the world in this situation

And it's funny how things have changed
Sitting here now it all seems so long ago
But looking through the hourglass
We thought that our love would last

Looking through the sands of time
Watch love floating through my mind
Want to go back to that day
But the sands of time don't flow that way
Looking through the sands of time
Watch love floating through my mind
Want to go back to that day
But the sands of time don't flow that way

Want your arms around me right here, right now
We'll find a way to get back to each other somehow
Can't believe how fast time goes by
Tomorrow came in the blink of an eye

It's funny how much I still love you
Been apart so long it would seem so impossible
But looking through the hourglass
I realise I'm living in the past

Looking through the sands of time
Watch love floating through my mind
Want to go back to that day
Looking through the sands of time
Watch love floating through my mind
Want to go back to that day
But the sands of time don't flow that way