

The Outsider

Unitopia

I have no idea of who I am
No recollection of my purpose
Just watching time go by
I've never seen another me
So alone so empty
Just waiting for what no know not I
I never thought to leave
Didn't know what would happen
Caught in another world
All alone locked in this castle of dreams
An endless forest of light-less trees
Cast shadows on the writings
That appear upon the darkness of these walls
The stale and arid aromas
Of seclusion and decay
Permeates the spaces rooms and halls
I never thought to leave
Didn't know what would happen
Caught in another world
All alone locked in this castle of dreams
I never thought to leave
Didn't know what would happen
Caught in another world
All alone locked in this castle of dreams

Climbing, climbing, slowly I reach for the light
Doorways, towering, reaching incredible heights
Eyes playing tricks
Not used to the brightness
A world full of wonder
Not sure what I see is real

In the darkened shadows lay a lonely silhouette
A creature with protruding bones and sickly yellow flesh
I quickly turn away not understanding what I'd seen
Try to make my way back home not knowing where I've been

Images that mock me
Nothing's what it seems
Creatures from the darkness
Haunted silent dreams

Images that mock me
Nothing's what it seems
Creatures from the darkness
Haunted silent dreams

Climbing, climbing, slowly I reach for the light
Doorways towering, reaching incredible heights
Eyes playing tricks
