Courage Today, Victory Tomorrow!

At the end of all things Behold what nature brings For what comes on the final day You must be brave

Oh heed my call! Courage today, victory tomorrow! Courage today, victory tomorrow!

The great war of our time Gods and men side by side Like in the past as they fell The old tales without end The legacy passed on again In a new time, a new place We shall live the ancient way

Oh heed my call! Courage today, victory tomorrow! Courage today, victory tomorrow!

Oh heed my call! Courage today, victory tomorrow! Courage today, victory tomorrow!

...And so it begins...
