

Breaking Of The 7 Seals

Until Rain

I feel so sad for you
Abysmal guilt surrounds you
All the things that will happen are your fault

I will break the seven seals
One by one they will destroy you
Everything will fall into place
The four horsemen
The white-dressed martyrs
Devastation released

It will be spoiled
The first creation
You've become an abomination
The firmness will be lost
The stars will miss their host
When everything falls apart

Please show mercy
The guilt lies with me
Things can change
I believe in you, I hope it's not too late
To save my soul

The trumpets blared out
After the silence it's the end of mankind
I've shown no mercy

The seven seals were broken
One by one they really did destroy you everything has fallen in to place
Everything has fallen into place
