

The World Is Our Playground And We Will Always Be Home

Up Dharma Down

You're my sunshine
My occasional rain
We become divine
After every pain

So won't you please
Sit this through
Because everyday
we'll find reasons to stay

If words are too few
To keep horizons in view
Will you go
Or stay and grow

Standing on the edge
Between crazy and sense
Remember what I said
Nothing has to end

Won't you think it over
I'm not so good with words
I don't think you heard me

If words are too few
To keep horizons in view
Will you go
Or stay and grow

You found me
Where will we go from here

I swear I belong
This is where I belong

Where do we go from here
Keep me
