

A City Of Sleeping Hearts

URBANDUB

The air is still at 3
The streets are asleep for now
The world, it folds it's arms
It embraces me.
And hides me from all harm
It hides me from all harm.

I ponder the loss of stars
In the night sky,
A smoked filled air tonight
For all of us
I weep for our loss.
I wander these streets
The corners I turn
Solace in shadows and road lights
That burn comfort in thoughts
I am home.

Tears flood the streets at 3
Drowning out my broken heart
Loneliness spreads it's arms
It embraces me.
And kills me so slowly
It kills me so slowly.
