

The Sword Inside The Heart

Valerie Dore

Love is in a glance in eyes that hide Love is trembling inside in a note left by A cup of wine magic poison of the mind it can keep you warm in winter night or in crystal caverns all your life

Love can take you high and it can end it's the aim of lonely men Love can make you king or lose a friend or give you scars you'll never mend And sometimes wars start in the name of love but it's for power or for pride

But love is more,
love is the sword inside the heart
It stands up high and shiny
And it's all for you baby
If you're not sure don't drive the sword inside my heart
I have a chain around me
And only you can free me, oh
But love is more,
love is the sword inside the heart
It stands up high and shiny
And it's all for you baby

Love is bittersweet
And lovers' tales have always filled the ancient song Take me out see the sun or hail Take my soul and turn it on Just let me love go ligh the skies outsides
And keep the dark days for away
