

Blood and Fire

Van Halen

You can always tell the winners
Saints and the sinners
Down at the starting line
I'm a lucid vision
Of the unforgiven
I'm your wave tossed guy

King size repercussions
Trouble by the dozens
The stakes have never been higher
Come back when you're younger
'Cause I can feel the thunder
1-800-IT'S-TIME

Ooh yeah!
We came, we came, we came
Through blood and fire
We came, we came, we came
Through blood and fire

Now look at all of the people
Here tonight

It's a world of fools
That's just what's expected
None of them know it
Or even suspect it
God must love the lazy,
Shiftless and the crazy
Put so many in line

Ooh yeah
We came, we came, we came
Through blood and fire
We came, we came, we came
Through blood and fire

Now look at all of the people
Here tonight

Forgotten empires
Lost victories long past
Every time I bloomed again
I thought it was the last
And then something crazy happens and Boom!
I'm doing the victory dance

Told ya I was coming back
Say you missed me
Say it like ya mean it

You can always tell the winners
Saints and the sinners
Down at the starting line

Ooh yeah

Through blood and fire
We came, we came, we came
Through blood and fire
We came, we came, we came
Through blood and fire
