

The Longest Winter

Vanilla Sky

Tell me how long have we spent forgetting
The people that we are and who we'll never be
Waiting for the right time makes us older
We said the world would never change us despite
Every time screaming silence broke my heart
Every night I embrace this endless pain
I feel in my chest the longest winter paralysing everything
So tell me how did you survive this winter cause
Mine began like summer a lifetime ago
When I thought it could have been so different, so perfect
We said the world would never change us despite

Every time screaming silence broke my heart
Every night I embrace this endless pain
I feel in my chest the longest winter paralysing everything
As long as I hold on
As long as fire still burns
As long as I hold on
As long as I believe that nothing can stop me or change me
Every time screaming silence broke my heart
Every night I embrace this endless pain
I feel in my chest the longest winter paralysing everything
