Hey, Hey
Hey, Hey
Who's that messin' with your mind?
Who's that playin' with your head?
Who's that screwin' up your life?
Who's that sleepin' in your bed?
Selfless martyr
He steals or barter what he needs
But you are smart enough to see

Valerie, don't believe him anymore
Your destiny gives you a reason for walkin' out that door
For walkin' out that door
For walkin' out
Hey, Hey
Hey, Hey

Where did all the happy times go?
Where's the love you dreamed about so?
Trust is somethin' hard to find ya know
But it's somethin' you can't live without though
He's a lucky charmer
Made of armor for a fool
But your love for him was true

Valerie, don't believe him anymore
His vanity one day will deceive him and even up the score

Hey, Valerie, don't believe him anymore
Your destiny gives you a reason for walkin' out that door
For walkin' out that door

Get off of your knees and dry your eyes
Cause you always said self-pity was somethin' that you despised
Hear what I'm sayin' to you

Hey Valerie, don't believe him anymore
Your destiny gives you the freedom for walking out that door
For walkin' out that door
For walkin' out that door

Hey Valerie, don't believe him
Valerie, don't believe him anymore
