

Oblivion

Vektor

Spiraling into oblivion, mindless thoughts scream my silent cries

A shroud of blood and body parts are my demise

Shapeless moments crack my memories, a broken mirror inside my mind

The end has come, now time is empty

Souls rip through the skin into oblivion

Reborn into nothingness

Sucked through the veins of the universe flows the essence of existence

Time cluttering, moment shattering, voidless persistence

Aimless gazes stab through my eyes while they set their sights asunder

Lightning strikes upon me when all I've known is thunder

Souls rip through the skin into oblivion

Reborn into nothingness

On and on through eternity, pathways through the galaxies

We were, we are, will we be?

Will our cries be heard, or echo endlessly?

Souls rip through the skin into oblivion

Reborn into nothingness
