

Feeling OK

Venke Knutson

You turn off the light and then you whisper
This name I've never heard before
You're trying not to tell me
The things I don't know how to get off my mind
You're so kind

Maybe if the sun comes up tomorrow
You'll take me out and see the clear, blue sky
We'll talk about the days we had
And all the precious memories we left aside
Like my pride

Because if you're feeling ok
And having dreams, it's ok
Cause I heard you whisper else than my name
You know if you're feeling ok
And having dreams, it's ok
Cause I heard you whisper this name I don't know
Again

The moon is up and everything is quiet
Stars and planets try to find their place
You take my hand and tell me
That you and I will always have this special place
Not to erase.

Because if you're feeling ok
And having dreams, it's ok
Cause I heard you whisper else than my name
You know if you're feeling ok
And having dreams, it's ok
Cause I heard you whisper this name I don't know
Again

Maybe if we live to see tomorrow
Maybe if we live to see the sun
I've been alone and happy
Remember what we had was all I did before
Not anymore

Because if you're feeling ok
And having dreams, it's ok
Cause I heard you whisper else than my name
You know if you're feeling ok
And having dreams, it's ok
Cause I heard you whisper this name I don't know
Again
