

I can hear the echo ringing in my head
In moments I remember everything you said
I can hear the echo ringing in my head
In moments I've been dreaming of all night long

The conversation runs through the end we've always started
I can hear the echo ringing in my head
In moments I've been dreaming of all night long

No it don't matter to me
I can hear the echo

I can hear the echo ringing in my head
In moments I remember everything you said
I can hear the echo ringing in my head
In moments I've been dreaming of all night long

The conversation runs through the end we've always started
I can hear the echo ringing in my head
In moments I remember trying to call me back

No it don't matter to me
I can hear the echo

Now is there a way some movement I'd make
There's something to recreate here again
Not something to give
Just something I lost
Where has it gone
Cause I can hear the echo

I can hear the echo ringing in my head
In moments I remember everything you said
I can hear the echo ringing in my head
In moments I've been dreaming of all night long
