Writings on Disobedience and Democracy

Vinnie Paz

"We have to stop thinking that we must have military solutions
To the problems we face in the world"
Yeah
"The solutions that we need are..."
Picking up where we left off
"... dealing of sickness, disease, and hunger
Now that's fundamental
If you want to end terrorism, you have to stop being terrorists
Which is what war is"

They told you World War II was a people's war Logic should have told them it was Imperialist war 18 million served in the armed forces 10 million more overseas - that's enormous 25 million workers paid for war bonds All of the while people question why the war's on There was an undercurrent of reluctance There were under-publicized signs of resistance Hitler's Germany was unspeakable evil But let's discuss real quick what we did to people We opposed the Haitian revolution We turned Guam, Puerto Rico, and Hawaii into institutions Pretended to help Cuba win freedom from Spain This country's built on the blood of other people's pain Blacks is looking at anti-Semitism in Germany And saw the situation here was mirroring it perfectly We appeased Hitler all throughout the '30s Only years later we pretended we was worried Roosevelt was hesitant to be gritty And caused a resolution to be buried in committee

The main interest was never to stop fascism But advancing Imperialist interests of that prism Roosevelt ain't care about oppression of the Jews The power was the priority, I'm telling you the truth Hitler not the reason that we entered the land Roosevelt was mad that we got hit by Japan Historians will tell you he provoked that shit He told lies in attempts to sugar coat that shit In '45 troops were jammed onto the Queen Mary The blacks were stowed down in the depths of the same ferry See there's a parallel you have to understand That they wanted them to fight but wouldn't treat them like a man Industrial mobilization had a few divided The economic royalists denounced and derided The irony of victory was heavily a price The war ended, 3 million men was in strike There's no peace in a world of capitalism Nazi eugenics economic rationalism The lesson was that war solved problems of control Regardless if it causes any problems for the soul

The black revolt in the '50s came as a surprise
It shouldn't have after we took so many of their lives
You can't erase the memory of an oppressed people
Reparation doesn't make it any less evil
Some black folks joined the Communist party

Richard Wright spoke of disillusionment with the body
The party was accused of exploiting black people
Angelo Herndon felt everything was equal
He was arrested they convicted for insurrection
How the fuck it's insurrection I call it dissension
Gave him 5 years when all he wanted was protection
There was other black men that made the same connection
Benjamin Davis defended Herndon as a savior
Then Paul Robeson; he only magnified the danger
Harry Truman had to deal with the militant mood
But how the fuck that gonna work when he a racist too?
In '54 they said they ended segregation
10 years later no changes
Revolt was always minutes away about to bust
Rosa Parks refused the black section of the bus

The freedom riders were spreading across the nation They went to jail for marching and fighting discrimination FBI stood by, Justice Department stood by While civil rights workers were beaten, they just stood by 3 civil rights workers, 2 black and 1 white Arrested in Philadelphia, Mississippi one night They were released, beaten with chains and shot to death There were arrests made but it was not confessed The national government remained silent The president wouldn't defend blacks against violence Civil rights laws were passed but they were fraud Equality was enforced poorly or was ignored Martin Luther King's speech floored whoever heard it 5 years later he was targeted and murdered In '65 the Watts Riots burned into the streets The black man would no longer turn the other cheek The Black Panther Party scared Nixon But that did nothing to change his position A new black consciousness was born and still alive And that came from the will to survive

This is the part where I would talk about Vietnam But me and Rugged Man we already made a song By the '70s distrust had spread across the nation Basic discontent political alienation 55, 000 died in the war of moral shame And then Watergate was added to the hall of pain The Watergate burglaries was rather complicated But in the end mostly all of them exonerated Nixon had CIA a G. Gordon Liddy Lie about the Democratic National Committee But eventually they all flipped on him And told the Senate that they had a lot of shit on him After that it was a swift and a sudden fall Nixon resigned before they could impeach the ball They got rid of Nixon but they kept the system His foreign policy still remains in position Corporate interests still remained in position His closest advisors remain in position Vietnam recession and unrest All adds up to a motherfucking mess

After Watergate and Vietnam

There was a deep economic insecurity in this world of ours

Environmental deterioration took its toll

A cultural violence upon the families took its toll

Problems couldn't be solved without bold changes

But no major party candidates proposed changes American political tradition held fast Urban communities turning into hell fast Black folks are bitterly disappointed with Carter Opposed federal aid the poor people didn't bother Reagan got elected and he built a military up A trillion dollars later And this motherfucker dummy up He cut benefits for the poor to get the money up Social security, disability went belly up Unemployment grew in the Reagan years 30 million people unemployed in the Reagan years Welfare became an object of attack Especially if you was latino or you was black I'm just scratching the surface of what was wrong We'll pick the conversation up in the next song

To be continued... You can't be neutral on a moving train I told y'all before You can't believe everything that your teacher tell you Who is your teacher? Your teacher just learned what they was taught How do you know what they was taught was correct? Y'kna mean? Dig into the real history of this country And the fact that it was built on blood We gonna go around for a third time But for now I'm just blessing y'all with this one A continuation of the first You can't be neutral on a moving train Pazienza Howard Zinn thank you for teaching the people Rest in Peace It's Pazienza baby