

You-know-where

Virgin Snatch

Still I don't know why you're dying
Long before your time has come
Who will take you to - you-know-where
I want to be

Now You're sleeping, left alone
In the last remaining glow
I am trying to understand

Find the key, open the door and you step inside
You will free from what what you want
Trying to remember where it all began
I will keep you in the corner of my eyes

Now You're sleeping, no more pain
And the last breath that you take
I am trying to understand

I will scream
At Your demise
It's always start again
Minutes seem like eternity

Graze the skin
At your demise
Memories
What used to be

Keep this going and step forward,
Through the black door of my head
I don't want to see what I'll need to forget
Purest hatred aimed at You God, Let it be
Let Me show You How I Hate You

Now You sleeping, time has come
In the last remaining shine
I am trying to understand

I will scream
At Your demise
It's always start again
Minutes seem like eternity

Graze the skin
At your demise
Memories
What used to be
